

Spaceweather Spotter | Photos and reports from the Spaceweather community: More

Sat Flybys for iPhone

Click here for details!

Stephen W. Ramsden

Image taken:

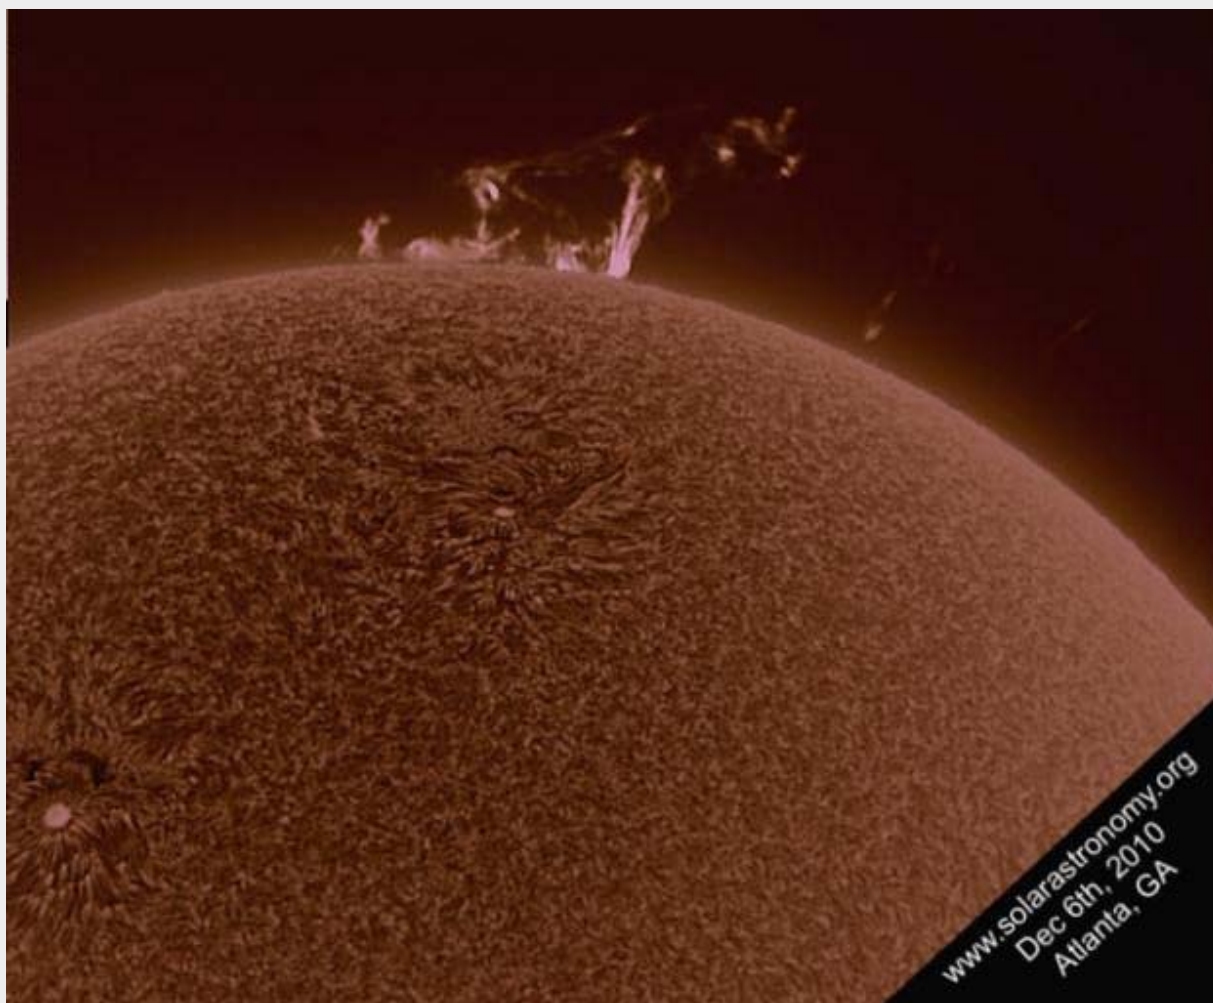

Dec. 6, 2010

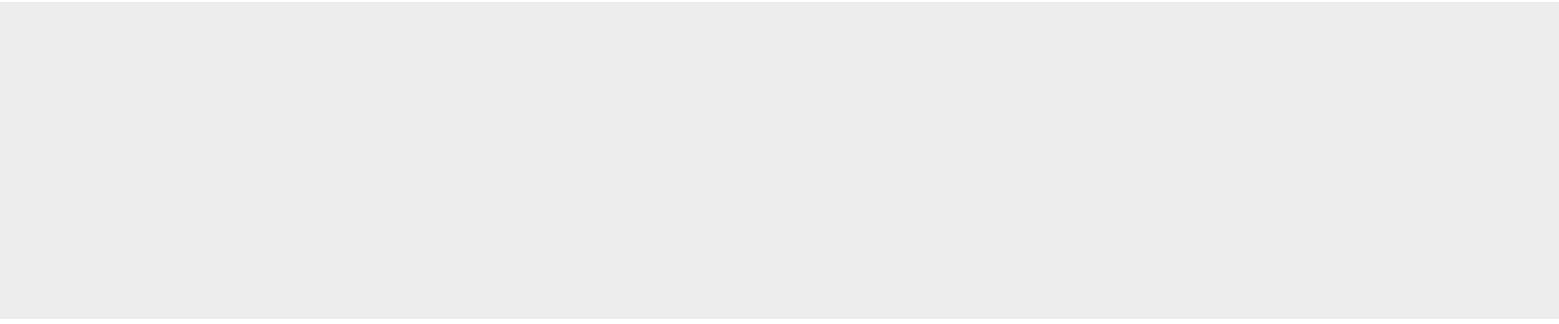

Location:

Atlanta, GA

Details:

The giant filament erupted this afternoon in what I can only describe as amazing. I watched it through a Coronado 90mm scope and snapped a few images. It was the fastest moving prominence eruption I have ever seen through my scopes. Incredible!

©2008, SpaceWeather.com -- This site is penned daily by Dr. Tony Phillips.